THE most safe, effectual and economical remedy for diseases of the Human Constitution, that has ever been dis-

These Pills are composed entirely of materials extracted from Medical Plants, and are warranted not to contain the price of mercury, or any mineral substance. Dr Kingley, the inventor of this valuable medicine, from his knowledge of the Human System, derived from a long and extensive practice, has arrived to the conclusion, that the great and primary cause of most diseases is a derangement in the functions of the liver; or, in other words, an increased or diminished secretion of the Bile.

So well is his understood, that it is common for persons to say when they feel unwell, that they are bilious, meaning that they have too much bile in the stomach. On the other hand, when the flow of bile is diminished, the process of diges ion is imperfectly performed, the patient becomes weak and emaciated, because nourishment contained in the food taken into the stomach is not properly extracted, and the food These Pills are composed entirely of materials extracted

De Kingley has spent much time in experimenting with dif-ferent vegetable medicines, for diseases of the liver, and now offers his Universal Family Pills as the best, most convenient and cheapest medicine that can be prepared for general use; and in offering them to the public, he is actuated more by beregetable medicines has enabled him to discover the true and only substitute answering all the purposes of mercurials, without any of their attendant evils. One great quality of his Family Pills is that they have the alterative principle combined with their cathartic or operative quality, so that they not only cleanse the stomach and bowels by purging, but they regulate the liver, change the morbid secretions, s rengthen the directive organs, purify the blood, invigorate the circulation, and give tone and energy to the nervous system

They are mild and pleasant in their operation, and convey alm stimmediate conviction of their utility from the first dose. They can be taken with safety by persons of any age, and the feeble, the infirm, the nervous, the delicate, are strengthened by their operation, because they clear the system of bad humans. or , quiet nervous irritabilities and resties ness, from what.

THE TREACHEROUS SIGHS. We were silent-the charm of the hour-The seductive, bland softness of eve, Filled with perfume from Viola's bower, Bade our bosoms but voicelessly breathe.

Every zephyr was pulseless and still, -Like tenderness poised upon wings; And low, like a nectarine rill, Each leaflet persuasively sings.

How radiant the spirit like girl! How sweet such communion to hold!
Its thrill—the light touch of a curl;
Its converse—the tender lips fold. On my lip passions' murmuring flutters,-

Its meaning is breathed in a sigh; Oh, rapture! her own softly utters The music of one, in reply !

Meeting, they* mingle caresses— [*i. e.—the sighs.]

"Ah, Viola, the prattlers have flown;

Weep not,—but the ransport that blesses

Their union, sweet maid, bless our own." Ch, then, how conflding and free, She lifted her glances to mine

And how like a vision to me, I clasped all her beauties divine.

Oh, horrors! Mr Editor, you see the way I am going-though I can't very well see, myself, how the "perfumed air" and fairy "bower," are consistent with our Icelandish weather :-But the probability is that the one expression means the fragrance of a bituminous coal fire, and the other the Evergreen decorations of Christmas.

A SONG. The violet had wept all night, And saw the dawn in tears;
And saw the dawn in tears;
The butterfly, with plumage bright,
Close at her side appears.
"Why mourns my flow'r?" he softly sigh'd, "Is not thy lover near?"
"Alas! but thou hast wings," she cried, " r hile I am rooted here! Thy wings are folded round me now,

But ere 'tis sunset where art thou!' I'd rather be of insect race Than thus in beauty shine, So I might fly from place to place And share my let with thine: Oh that in pity from the earth Some hand would set me free! The winds would hear me in their mirth Away, dear love, with thee!

A ROYAL MARRIAGE.

The marriage of the King of Greece with the Princess Amelia of Oldenburg was celebrated on the 22d ult. in and emaciated, because nourishment contained in the food to ken into the stomach is not properly extracted, and the food is ejected in a crude state. Dr Kingley is confident that the famous Hygeian Theory, so called, that "impurity of the blood is the cause of all diseases," is a great absurdity. Every one who reflects upon the subject a moment, will perceive that impurity of the blood is a secondary, not a primary complaint—the effect is not the cause of a disease. When the functions of the liver are deranged, and the flow of bile increased, it is often taken up by the absorbent vessels and carried into the circulation, and becomes mingled with the blood as in Jaundice, when the patient shows it in his countenance. Now this impurity of the blood is caused by an increased flow of the blood is caused by an increased flow of the liver, and restore it to a healthy state.

of said vote of censure from the journals. And the said State of Massachusetts does hereby solemnly declare and protest, that the said vote of censure was unwarrantable, unjust, illegal and false; and that the act of formally voting said censure and of placing it on the journal of the Senate, was an act extrajudicial, and out of the proper sphere of legislation, and no part of the duties or of the legal powers of the said Senators. That it was consequently unconstitutional, the said Senators having no power in the premises, except on impeachment by the people through their representatives, who alone have the right and power of accusing the President, and that the said Senators in their action thereon had no other warrant or authority for such proceeding than any other twenty-eight citizens would have; that the entry therof, on the record, was a use of the record not justifiable, illegal, and not keeping the record for the lawful purposes for which it should be kept, but was keeping it for other and unlawful purposes, even if the said vote had been in fact true.

But she further protests that said vote was not in fact true, but was false, and has been since declared to be false by the people, where they have had opportunity to express their opinion thereof.

But she does principally, and in particularly, strenuously and solemnly protest against the enormous doctrine of her said Senators, that nothing which is once entered on the journals of the Senate, should be expunged therefrom. The assumption that the Senators have power to give PER-MANENT force and validity to any act of theirs, so that it cannot be abrogated or altered, she declares to be the greatest encroachment on the rights of the people, and the most daring attempt at usurping and perpetuating power ever made in this country. The most formal acts of legislation, those which are solemnly enacted by all branches of the legislature and approved by the President, and become thereby the law of the land, have force only from day to day, and may be abrogated or altered at any time, by the same power, and in the same manner, in and by which they have been enacted; and shall a future legislature have no power over a mere vote, containing an opinion only of one branch? Now, the mode of abrogating a law, is, by declaring that it shall cease to have force and effect. But the vote in question never having any force and effect outwardly on the people, as a law, and being only an expression of opinion, could only be abrogated by a counter vote declaring it to be abrogated and expunged.

Now, therefore, the State of Massachusetts declares, and does most solemnly protest, that the Senate of the United States, have the right and the power to expunge from their journals, any vote of any preceding Senate; that the docurine of her said Senators in relation thereto, is opposed to the Constitution, hostile to the rights and liberties of the people and of the members of the Senate, highly arrogant, and assuming of illegal power: that the said entry of the vote of censure upon the journals of the Senate, was a mutilation of the record, it being out of the proper sphere of legislation, and a use of the journal not contemplated by the people of the United States or by the Constitution; and that the general tenor of the conduct of her said Senators, in this, and other matters of great interest and importance to the country, particularly in matters relating to the late Bank of the United States and the revenue and the defences of the country, has been, in the extreme, violent, undignified, factitious, and with a single eye to the aggrandisement of their party, their friends and the late Bank of the United States, and without regard to the welfare, honor, or interests of the country.

A Patriotic Effusion in the Style of the Panic Party .- Fellow Citizens,-All you that have a spark of the good old patriotic spirit of Federalism remaining in your souls, we call upon you to contemplate the awful scenes of political corruption, which have spread war, famine and desolation over this fair country for the last eight years. At the memorable commencement of this fatal period, we began, and have continued ever since, predicting certain and immediate disasters to our republic; yet the people have turned a deaf car to our remonstrances, and have scoffed at all our prophesyings. When our present Chief Magistrate was inaugurated into office, we predicted immediate war, disunion and civil revolution; we adverted to the fatal precedent of elevating a warrior to the chief office of state; we foretold the certain change of the form of our government into a monarchy; we foresaw the termination of our glorious experiment of a republican constitution; we predicted all this-publishing it by the lips of our greatest orators, and through the medium of our patriotic presses. But the people went on their way rejoicing; perfectly regardless of all these awful calamities that await-

On the removal of the deposites-we went about on Sabbath days to sound the tocsin of alarm; -proclaimed ourselves on the very eve of a revolution, and declared that it were better, for awhile, to forego the observance of the Sabbath, to defend ourselves from the lowering political tempest. We then predicted the utter prostration of all business; the complete destruction of our national currency; the annihilation of our honor and credit with foreign countries, and all the varied disasters that attended the downfal of the Roman Empire. But the people heeded not our words-and what is the consequence? Look round about you, fellow citizens, o'er the wide scene of all this calamity and desolation; survey our territories from Maine to Louisiana-and then ponder well upon our predictions. We warned you in season to have escaped all these exils if we would-but you heeded us not and the curse be upon your own heads. We wash our hands of your blood. We predicted a war with France, in season for you to have avoided all the tumult and bloodshed that his threatening policy, inevitably prevent France from abiding by her treaty, and from granting ear indemnificattion .- But Jackson's Message went forth-a few remonstrating voices were heard among the patriotic panic-party but it went forth to France. And what was the consequence? A terrible fire happened in the city of New York. causing the rain of some of the most enterprising of our merchants-such a conflagration of property as had never been before witnessed on this side of the Atlantic.

Notwithstanding all these predictions of divers calamities to our nation, which we have been constantly proclaiming for the last eight years; anarchy, civil war, national famine and bankruptcy, bloodshed and all the nameless evils of civil revolution; -still the people regard not our words. Alas! in spite of the awful truths which we have uttered; in spite of the panics which we have raised in all quarters of the union; in spite of the deluge of blood which was shed in our predicted war with France, and the immense destruction of our merchandise, consquent upon it; - in spite of all these things, Gen ral Jackson has been sus ained by the people !! And what has been the consequence? The consequence, fellow-citizens, the deplorable consequence, is, the election of Martin Van Buren to the Presidency of the United States! And now, again, we predict, with that unerring certainty with which we made all our calamitous predictions at the commencement of the term of Andrew Jackson, a continuation of the same ruinous calamities and adversities that now overspread our

C. G. Greene, Esq .- Sir: - The citizens of Boston will well remember, when the great fire occurred in Blackstone street, the clamor raised (and justly) against the erection of more woode: buildings on the same land; but the property belonging to private individuals, who had a right to do as they pleased, the land was almost immediately covered with wooden buildings again. But my object at this time is to call the attention of the public to a block of wooden buildings about to be erected between City wharf and Mercantile wharf-and by whom do you think they are to be erected ? By the City of Boston ! for the lessees of City Wharf. Now, Mr Editor, when private citizens erect wooden buildings, to use a homely phrase, we must " grin and bear it," but when the City of Boston undertakes to put up tinder boxes, it is time for those whose property is endangered, and all who regard the looks of the city, to speak out.

The Water Witch .- Seeing a paragragh in the Post of Saturday last, relative to the new Lowell fire engine, "Water Watch," in which the names of the maker, painter, &c. &c., were favorably mentioned, and having myself observed the peculiar beauty of the designs upon the pannels, it was with extreme regret I noticed the omission of the name of the artist, at Mr Moore's establishment, who furnished those designs. They were produced by Mr Wm. Croome-the same artist, it will be recollected, who, a short time since, received so many well meritted encomiums for the designs on the bills of the Lafayette Bank. Much praise is due Messrs Gerry & Burt, for the faithful manner in which they copied Mr Croome's beautiful sketch. These remarks are made from a desire for equal justice, and the conviction that the artist is entitled to at least as much praise as his employer. VERDAD.

Finding that misrepresentations have been spread abroad last, at the Capitol, in the room of the Select Committee, of which the Hon Mr Garland is Chairman, I deem it a duty alike to myself, and the public, to lay before it a cor-

On that day after my protest had been read by the Committee, received, and ordered to be placed on the journal, Mr Peyton commenced propounding interrogatories to me, ne of which I answered, and some I declined answer-

The following was the fifteenth interrogatory propound ed by him: "Did you receive any letter of recommendation from R. B. Taney, or did he in any manner countenance or encourage you in applying for the agency contemplated; or did he positively refuse to receive or countenance you in that capacity while he was at the head of the Treasury Department ?" To the interrogatory I gave the following answer: "I it was not in order, inasmuch as it was an amendment to decline answering this interrogatory; more particularly as an amendment, which had been adopted. The Chairman the individual propounding it has asserted positively and publicly that the substance of the latter part of it is true, beginning with, 'or did, &c.' therefore, being the party before the Committee, would be by moving that the rules accused, I am not a proper witness. The interrogatory which the chairman alluded to was then propounded, which was as follows: - Did you or not apply to the Secretary of the Treasury to be appointed, either before or after the removal of the deposites, agent of the department, or of the deposite banks, selected or to be selected?"

The foregoing is nearly, if not an exact account, of what transpired. When it is recollected that on the 5th inst. in a Card, published in the Globe, I challenged Mr Peyton to adduce promptly disposed of, Mr Chapman renewed his motion to a single particle of proof to sustain the assertion I found it in consequence of the character of the agent alluded to, Mr Taney, the former Secretary of the Treasury, would not recommend him as an agent of the deposite banks," I will leave it to the public to decide, who was the aggressor on the evening alluded to, Mr Peyton, for propounding illustrated in the Common Council last night. Sold by appointment in Boston, at D. S. ROWLAND'S, 181 Warren Samson Walton Sarah A Walsh Michael Ward Halbrock Washington street, Bos on.

"To administer to a mind diseased, pluck from the Memory arooted Sorrow,"

"Raze out the written troubles of the Brain, and with some sweet obtinious Antidote,"

"Cleanse the foul Bosom of that perilous stuff which weight upon the Heart."

Dr. LOVEMAN'S Balm of Gilead is universally acknowledged to be peculiarly efficacious in all Inward wastings, loss of appetite, indigestion, depression of spirits, trembling or shaking of the hands or limbs, shortness of breath, and consumptive habits. It thiss the blood, eases the most violent pain in the head and stomach, and promotes gentle perspiration. By the Medical Faculty this medicine is much admired being pleasant to the taste and smell, gently astringing the forest of the stomach, and giving that proper tensity which a good digestion requires.

Dr. Loveman's Balm of Gilead is recommended to the week, the relaxed, and debilitated, as an agreeable and speedy restative; and considered as a cordial, is essential to the comfort of ladies of fashion, being a preventive against cold, when taken before going out to parties, balls, routs or the play. It will enliven the spirits and invigorate the mind and body, and if taken after fatigue, it will with a few hours sleep, take away all largnor consequent on broken rest, and give relief from every unpleasant sensation.

It is a most valuable remedy for such diseases as are attended with the following symptoms, namely—a great straitfies of the breast, with difficulty of breathing—violent papipiations of the heart, sudden flasees of heat in various parts of the body—at other times a sense of cold, as if water was pourced on them—flying pains in the arms and limbs, back and belly, resembling those occasioned by the gravel—the pulse very variable, sometimes uncommonly slow, at other times a sense of soff cation, as from a ball or lump in the throat—alternate fits of crying and convulsive laughing—the sleep unsound, and seldom refreshing, and the patient often troubled with horrid dreams. of sight or memory, should take time to consider Linnguis's advice, that "youth is the important period for forming a robust constitution," and that "nothing is to be dreaded so much as premature excess." The foundation of a happy old age is a good constitution in youth; temperance and moderation at that age are passports to happy grey hairs.

For such as have violated these precepts, then, this healing balm is suitable—complaints included in the vague appellation of Nervous and Consumptive, are those for which it is peculiarly adapted.

In offering this medicine to the public, I can say with confidence that they will find great benefit by using it in all diseases recommend d, as I am fully acquainted with the medical qualities, as they have been discovered by myself, and are extracted from vegetables, and I can truly say, there is no earthly danger in using the medicine by any person, no matter how ly danger in using the medicine by any person, no matter how they may be afflicted. This medicine has been used by large number of persons, and have been cured of diseases of a long standing, when all other medicines have failed. n25

TO THE PUBLIC.—Anacreon, the prince of ancient poets, the lover and the eulogist of the ladies, never forgot, in his odes, to mentiod of the teeth of pearl.

Ovid never for one moment lost sight of the "balmy breath" of his ladie-, and his earnest recommendation to both sexes was ever to "keep your teath elean, and your breath sweet." The ancients had the means of doing so. Anacreon's beauties were as noted for their flowing zones and their eyes of fire, as for their teeth of pearl and their breath of balm.

"To administer to a mind diseased, pluck from the Memory Hippogrates, and all other advontages are useless."

Hippogrates, This Co-dial has been uncommonly successful with young people who have the appearance and air of old age, who are pale, effeminate, benumbed, stupid, and even imbecile; whose bodies are become bent, whose legs are no longer able to carey them, who have an utter distaste for every thing, and are totally incapacitated. Where the stomach is frequently disordered, the body is weakened; paleness, bodily decay and emaciation succeed, and the eyes sink into the head. The virtues of Dr Loveman's Balm of Gileadere demonstrated, in oradicating the worst and most dangerous symptoms of nervous debility, and nothing has tended so much to establish the fame of this medicine, as its certain success in those complaints which strike their roots so deep in the constitution, and are so fatal to the happiness of mankind.

Dr Loveman's Balm of Gilead has risen in repute with every trial of its efficacy. Some, perhaps, unacquainted with its virtues, not having perused the Guide to Heslih, may be induced to ask what is the Balm of Gilead good for? What complaint doth it cure?—To answer this it will be necessary to "Hold the Mirror up to Nature."

Let those who are afflicted in the following manner reflect on the cause that produced such havoe upon the "wholesome appetites and powers of life:"—disordered stomach, dry cough, weakness in the voice hoarseness, shortness of breath upon the least exercise, and relaxation of the whole system. Those afflicted with paleness, languor of the eyes, weakness of sight or memory, should take time to consider Linnædi's advice, that "youth is the important period for forming a robust constitution," and that "nothing is to be dreaded so much to bust constitution," and that "nothing is to be dreaded so much
